How can Christian faith strengthen us today?

- Discover a place of common life and spirituality
- Listen to God's word and experience God's silence
- Find spaces for solitude and communion

After a short morning prayer, we will guide you in a day of reflection, sharing and spiritual practices that will help center and give meaning to your everyday life.
